SUBJECT : Budget Backup Book

STATINTL

1. [] of the Office of the Comptroller has been in contact with some of you directly relative to additional information being collected for the DCI's backup book for the budget hearings. In addition to that specific tasking, the Director has noted a need to get more solid evidence for defense of our activities. To assist in doing that, it is asked that each of you provide what you can in terms of the following assigned areas:

OJCS - Anything that can be cited that shows cost reduction, better speed or improvement in services provided analysts. Note if any of these enhancements result from centralization;

STATINTL

OC - A few examples of specific communications activities that can be understood and appreciated by outsiders (the [] situation for example);

OC, OL - Some examples of items which have been particularly susceptible to inflationary pressures and comparison with previous years;

OF, OL, OMS, OS, OP, OTR - Examples of specific contributions to intelligence collection, analysis and/or operations not to exceed five examples for each office.

~~Administrative - Internal Use Only~~

Remarks:
We are in the process of pulling together information for the Director's back-up book for use in connection with hearings on the 1976 Congressional Budget. Attached are copies of some of the materials included in the back-up book last year. Please review and update as necessary the sections on real estate holdings and Agency procedures for ensuring compliance with Government contracting policies. In addition, we would like to have information on cost overruns during FY 1975 to date in a table similar to the attached. Also, we need a list of major contracts awarded in the current fiscal year (Over) where the amount involved is $300 thousand or more.

In view of the emphasis on EEO, we would like to have any information available on contract activity with minority contractors. Information on contracts let through the bidding process as compared with sole source determination also is desired. We leave to your discretion the manner in which this information is provided. We would like to have your response by 25 February 1975.

P.S. Suggest you submit your response to us through the Asst. for Resources, ODDA.
